LAMP POST HANGING IN LA PAZ

La Paz, Sept. 28.
A mob estimated at 80,000 persons, infuriated by the attempted assassination of Bolivia's President Tomas Monje Gutierrez, hanged three men from mid-town lamp posts here today.

One of the hanged men was a former army officer, who was hanged by the crowd soon after he was taken to the President's office, called a Presidential aide with the butt of a pistol and announced: "I am going to be President."

The police seized him, but the mob swept him away from the officers and hanged him.

The hounding, shouting mob then marched to the Central Jail and seized Major Jose Escobar and Major Jorge Ezquiola. La Paz police chiefs during the regime of President Gualberto Villaroel, which was overthrown last July 21 in a revolution in which more than 1,000 persons were killed and 2,000 injured.—Associated Press.

Indians Race For Soviet Favours

Paris, Sept. 27.
A race from India to the doorstep of the Russian Embassy in Paris by Muslim and Hindu representatives seeking Soviet support from M. Vyacheslav Molotov, the Soviet Foreign Commissar, is approaching its final stage today.

San Antonio Floods

San Antonio, Tex., Sept. 28.
A U.S. Army bomber today dropped emergency rafts to an under-terminated number of persons marooned on rooftops south of here as the crest of a flood which took at least six lives surged towards the Gulf of Mexico.

Residents routed from bed by the fast rising waters of the San Antonio River after midnight were returning to their water-soaked homes as darkness approached today.

The Red Cross prepared to house and feed 650 persons at rescue stations. The estimate of property damage ranged from $1,000,000 to $3,000,000 as the waters of the cloud-burst swollen stream poured over the bottomlands.

At the height of the storm, the water swelled inches deep about the famous Alamo. Floods also threatened Fort Sam Houston which is the world's largest military installation.

San Antonio was virtually isolated with most highways closed, railways stopped and airlines disrupted. Some looting occurred.—Associated Press.

MORE DELAY

London, Sept. 27.
The prospect of the plenary sessions of the London Palestine conference resuming on Monday were destroyed today when it was decided to hold another meeting of the joint committee, considering the final draft Arab counter proposals to the British plan.

Only after this meeting is there any likelihood of the date being fixed for the next full meeting of the conference.—Reuters.

GOVT. DEPARTMENT RAIDED IN CORRUPTION ENQUIRY

Surprise Visits To Import And Export Office And Private Business Firms

Books, Documents Impounded

("Sunday Herald" Special)

It is now possible to disclose that a campaign has been launched to break up the corruption rackets in various departments of Government. Important investigations were started this week with a series of raids. Among those visited were the Import and Export Department and a number of firms who are believed to have had dealings with the department.

TRADE MISSION

London, Sept. 27.
Two Transport Command R.A.F. aircraft, one equipped as a "flying office" and the other as a repair shop, will leave Northolt airfield on Monday morning carrying the United Kingdom Trade Mission on its 10,000-mile journey to China.

The mission, led by Sir Leslie Boyce, will comprise nine members and a secretariat of three and will study the possibilities of increasing trade between Britain and China. They will travel several thousand miles by air inside China.—Reuters.

Menthol Crystal Exports Rise

Shanghai, Sept. 27.
Export circles are intrigued by the sudden increased export of over 6,000 kilogrammes of menthol crystals, worth CNY$3,000,000, in August, as revealed by the Chinese Maritime Customs figures for that month today.

These figures show that Shanghai's exports increased to a value of almost CNY$50,000,000,000—more than double July's figures. Hog-bristle exports during August were six times those of July in value and wood-oil three times.

Imports, exclusive of those for UNRRA, amounted to nearly CNY$118,000,000,000 or an increase of over CNY$24,000,000,000 over July.

The increase in imports has also excited surprise in view of the fact that raw cotton, which accounted for almost half the total imports in previous months, declined in August by CNY$7,000,000,000.—Our Own Correspondent.

De Gaulle May Give It His Approval

(By Robert Wilson)

Paris, Sept. 28.
The belief was growing yesterday in French political circles that General Charles de Gaulle will give grudging approval to the new constitution.

In the absence of a clear-cut confirmation of this, however, Paris was tense, awaiting his judgment on the charter on which the major political parties had finally reached agreement.

De Gaulle will give his opinion tomorrow in a speech at Epinal during ceremonies commemorating war dead.

On his words depend:

1. Whether the nation will be split into two hostile blocs during the referendum campaign on the constitution.
2. Whether ultimately, de Gaulle will become the first President of the Fourth Republic.

If de Gaulle denounces the charter and urges the people to vote against it, most observers believe it will be touch and go if the constitution will be accepted. De Gaulle himself is said to believe he could muster the support of 40 per cent of the people.

If de Gaulle finds the charter acceptable, it is practically certain that the M.R.P. will put him forth as their candidate for the presidency.

Under French precedents, no individual actually comes forward with a declaration that he is a candidate for the post.

De Gaulle's intimates in Paris refused any comment on what he thinks now, but at the Palais Bourbon informed dispatches.

STOP PRESS

Sydney, Sept. 20.
An early tally of votes yesterday in Australia's general election indicated that J. B. Chifley's Labour Government would be returned. After 90 minutes counting, there was no clear sign that any sitting Labour M.P. was being unseated. The Liberal and Country Party opposition need to win 18 seats from Labour to control the House of Representatives.

Chifley and Herbert E. Smith, Minister of External Affairs, seemed certain to retain their seats.—Associated Press.

Alexandria, Sept. 29.
King Simon, the ruler of Bulgaria, is expected to arrive by sea at Alexandria today this morning.—Associated Press.

Four Tommies 'Kidnapped'

Vienna, Sept. 28.
During the past four weeks four British soldiers have failed to return to their units after patrol duties on the frontier between Yugoslavia and the British zone of Austria and there is clear evidence that they were taken into custody by the Yugoslavs, British official sources here announce.

Repeated inquiries have failed to reveal their whereabouts or obtain their release.

The frontier in this sector is in mountainous country and not clearly marked and there is no doubt the soldiers crossed inadvertently into Yugoslav territory, the statement said.—Reuters.

Poisoned Hen Wipes Out Family

Milan, Sept. 28.
The "Corriere d'Informazione," in a dispatch from Alessandria, Piedmont, yesterday said that five members of one family died and a sixth, a lawyer named Alfredo de Giorgis, 34, was near death after eating a poisoned hen with which de Giorgis had conducted laboratory experiments.

War Brides Homesick

(By Eric Seymour)

St. Johns, Newfoundland, Sept. 28.
Many British war brides of Newfoundland servicemen have given up the fight against homesickness and returned to Britain.

After spending a few months or weeks—in some cases only a few days—in their new homeland, 150 of the brides have gone back home, some by air, others by sea, victims of homesickness, some in the hope that their husbands will follow them and obtain employment in Britain, while still others have decided that they don't like either their husbands or Newfoundland and they have returned to Britain to start divorce proceedings.

A few war widows of Newfoundlanders came here to visit their husbands' families in the hope of starting a new life, but they too have been unable to become accustomed to the remoteness and comparative loneliness of Newfoundland.

No Divorce Law

The fact that there is no divorce law in Newfoundland makes it all the more difficult for couples who have made a wrong marriage, especially when the British war brides and the divorces being granted to these G.I. brides who also made a mistake.

Here are a few cases of these unhappy wives:—

A young woman, sent here before her husband was released from his unit in Britain, returned to England disillusioned while her husband, absent in the way he believed, was actually courting the Atlantic.

Another bride took one look at Newfoundland and decided to return to Britain.

MARY CHURCHILL AND PRINCE

Brussels, Sept. 28.
New rumours are spreading here that Prince Charles, 43-year-old Regent of Belgium, is engaged to Mary Churchill, 23-year-old, youngest daughter of wartime Premier Winston Churchill.

Both Churchill and his daughter are paying a strictly private visit to Belgium as guests of the Regent and his mother. This is the third time that Charles and Mary have met in less than a year. A spokesman for the Royal Palace would neither deny nor confirm the rumoured engagement.—Associated Press.

Poland Protests

London, Sept. 28.
The Polish Government has sent a note to the British Government dealing with the "unlawful enlistment of Polish soldiers into the British military forces" Warsaw radio said today.

The protest comes 12 hours after an announcement in Warsaw that General Wladyslaw Anders, Commander of the Polish Second Corps has been deprived of his nationality and the Government has decided to apply to 75 officers, including five generals of General Anders' Corps, the law passed in 1920 which forbids service to a foreign country or foreign armed forces.

This prohibition would apply to Poles who have decided to join the Resettlement Corps in Britain.—Reuters.

Funeral Of 'Dakota' Crash Victims

It was announced by the R.A.F. Press Relations Officer yesterday that the funeral of the 19 victims of the Dakota crash at Kai Tak on Wednesday will take place with full military honours at Happy Valley tomorrow morning, when the funeral service will be read by the Bishop of Hong Kong, the Right Reverend Ronald Hall.

The funeral procession, which will assemble at the junction of Nathan and Waterloo Roads in Kowloon at 9 a.m., will include relatives and friends of the victims as well as representatives of all Services.

The procession, after leaving Waterloo Road, will proceed to the Vehicular Ferry at Jordan Road, where it is due to arrive at 10.15, and will cross the harbour arriving on the Hong Kong side at 10.35.

The procession will reform at the Vehicular Ferry Pier and will proceed to HMS Tamar (Wellington Barracks), whence it will continue to Happy Valley by transport. The cortege will arrive at the burial ground at 11.45.

The service at the graveside will be read by Bishop Hall at noon.

Buglers from 12 Commando will sound the "Last Post" while 110 Squadron R.A.F. will provide the firing party.

Among those attending will be Mr. Ng Shun-hung, representative of Mr. T. W. Kwok, Special Commissioner for Foreign Affairs for Kwangtung and Kwangsi.

CNAC CRASH

Nanking, Sept. 28.
Chungking dispatches said today that a Chinese National Aviation Corporation plane with 28 persons aboard, missing since September 20, has been located in the Lolo country of Western China and all aboard were found unhurt.—Associated Press.

MTBs LOST EN ROUTE TO H.K.

Manila, Sept. 29.
Seven persons, including an American, are feared lost at sea after being unreported for several days on a patrol torpedo boat trip to Hong Kong that normally requires only three days.

A flotilla of four PT boats, chased by Chinese forces from the United States Foreign Liaison Commission, landed on the island of Luzon, but the PT boats were lost on the way.

The boats were low on petrol. The ss. "Neptune," from Hong Kong, picked up PT 366 of Northern Luzon and towed it to Manila. The Manila authorities said the other three boats were not reported at Hong Kong.—Associated Press.

Mopping Up In Hopei

Nanking, Sept. 27.
Mopping up operations by Chinese Government forces along the Peiping-Hankow Railway in Central Hopei are gathering momentum.

Government troops have captured Yungcheng, 25 miles northeast of Peiping, and are surrounding Mancheng and Hsingsien, respectively 20 miles northeast and 33 miles northeast of Peiping, according to Government reports.

Over 40,000 Communists, under the command of General Liu Po-cheng, have been locked in battle with Government troops driving northward from Anyang in north Honan to Tzichien, in south Hopei, says a report from Peiping.

According to the National Defence Ministry, fighting is also raging north of Pushan, 150 miles south of Taiyuan, where the Communists are cutting in reinforcements to make a desperate stand.

The Communists in the northeast, who have taken the Hailin railway station, are not trying to thrust southward towards Lungan. To check further Communist advances, Government troops are reported to be on the alert, says a Government report, which adds that the Communists have been joining the Sungari river bridge in readiness to blow it up in case of military urgency.—Reuters.

Communist Claims

Peiping, Sept. 28.
The Communist radio at Yenai ignored the Kalgan fighting and claimed victories in southern Shanxi and central Kiangsu provinces. The Communists said the Government's 1st Brigade which is already trimmed down from a division, was wiped out at Fowshan in Shanxi three days ago. It continued to say that other Government forces of unspecified size were destroyed in the Kiangsu countryside.

The Government news black-out shrouded the news around Kalgan. The pro-Government paper, "Hsin Sheng Pao," reported fierce fighting is raging at Hivalat, five miles southeast of Kalgan.

The Catholic newspaper, "Special Welfare," reported that another column was attacking Tolia, 185 miles north of Kalgan, after driving westward across Fochi province. The paper said this attack was designed to prevent the Kalgan Communists from a supply route southward.—Associated Press.

DE HAVILLAND KILLED

Rochester, Sept. 28.
Geoffrey de Havilland, a great aviation pilot and colonel of the great aviation family, is presumed killed as a result of the explosion, 10,000 feet up, of a radical tail-jet plane yesterday evening.

Wreckage believed to be that of the aircraft was uncovered by the shingle this morning. The remains were half buried in the soft black Thames estuary mud, but there was no trace of the pilot.

De Havilland was on his final test flight before attacking the world speed air record. A Ministry of Supply spokesman said that no further attempt will now be made this year.—Associated Press and Reuters.

ALL QUIET IN PALESTINE

Jerusalem, Sept. 28.
The Palestine scene was all quiet yesterday on the second day of the observance of the Jewish New Year.

The police had a minor skirmish before dawn in the Nashashibi quarter of Jerusalem when they exchanged shots with three persons who refused to halt when challenged.

No casualties and no arrests were reported.—Associated Press.

THE WEATHER

An anti-cyclone covers Central and North-east China and is moving eastwards. Pressure is moderately high over Korea and in a trough extending from Siam to the Pacific off the Marianas.

Today's forecast:—Moderate east winds, cloudy with some light rain at first, becoming foggy.

Yesterday's weather:—Maximum: 84 deg. Minimum: 74.5 deg. Sunshine: 2.5 hours. Rainfall: 0.200 inches. Max. Rel. Humidity: 99 per cent.

London, Sept. 27.
The British delegates to the preliminary conference on the United Nations Conference on the Far East are taking the train to Paris and the Soviet delegates arrived in Moscow yesterday.

Warning To Boat Folk

Comdr. Ryder yesterday warned all boat people that it was their responsibility to acquaint themselves with the harbour regulations and future plans of ignorance will not be accepted.

He was addressing a Court crowded with 18 boat people arraigned for tying their boats to the Praya Wall at night without permission, and seven fishermen for using a bright light for fishing in the harbour at night.

Sub-Inspector Blackhurst and Inspector, prosecuting for the Police, said that in the early hours of Sept. 28, they made a sweep of the waterfront and arrested the accused. The fishermen were fishing in the central fairway.

All the accused pleaded ignorance of the regulations, and when it was pointed out to them that there had been previous convictions quite recently, while about two months ago a notice had been published in the paper by the Harbour Master, they said they did not read the papers.

In imposing a nominal fine of $10 each on all the accused Comdr. Ryder said that ignorance was no excuse, and warned them that in future the penalty would be heavier.

To the fishermen, the Court explained to them that the whole of the harbour limit, excepting Kowloon Bay, was a prohibited area for bright light fishing.

On an additional charge of failing to produce their licences, three of the accused said they were only the persons in charge at the time, their masters being absent. One woman said her husband was the master, and when the boat could not move off he had gone to stay ashore for the night. They were all discharged with a caution.

Painting Exhibition

An exhibition of Chinese paintings by the well-known painter, Mr. Li Shou-chan, is being held at St. John's Cathedral Hall, Garden Road, from today for two days, from 10 a.m. till 6.00 p.m.

Over 100 exhibits are on view, ranging from figure subjects and landscapes to flowers and birds. A notable work is his goldfish paintings in which he specialises.

Mr. Li is a member of the Hong Kong Working Artists' Guild whose activities in presenting exhibitions of its members before the war will be remembered.

The Guild is now reviving its activities under the supervision of Mr. Luis Chan, the Vice President, who recently received a letter from His Excellency, Sir Andrew Caldecott, G.C.M.G., C.B.E., former Governor of Hong Kong, requesting him to "give its members his felicitations and kindest remembrances."

Another part of His Excellency's letter reads: "While in Canton I took up watercolour work again myself and produced, among much rubbish, several possible flukes which were kindly dealt with by critics in the 'Columbo' Exhibitions. My main hobbies now are music (I have a library of 700 gramophone records besides a Beethoven grand piano) and writing."

Price Control (Hotel Services) Regulations, published in the Gazette yesterday, empower Government to fix maximum charges of any hotel, and make it an offence to charge for any service a price in excess of the maximum price prescribed.

The Regulations state:—
"The competent authority may by Order under his hand whether of general or particular application fix maximum charges for all or any of the services (including the provision of lodging) provided by any hotel and may prohibit the making of any charge by any hotel except in respect of the services specified in any such Order."

"The competent authority or any person appointed by the competent authority to be a Hotel Inspector may at all reasonable times:

- (a) enter upon and inspect any premises which he has reason to believe are being used as a hotel;
- (b) require any person carrying on the management of such hotel or employed in connection therewith

(1) to produce to, and allow to be examined by him any accounts, books or other documents in the custody of or under the control of the person so required, being documents relating to the management of the hotel or of any service rendered by such hotel, the examination of which he may reasonably require for the purposes of these Regulations;

(2) to furnish to him any information regarding the management of the hotel or of any service rendered by such hotel which he may reasonably require for any of the purposes of these Regulations;

(3) to display any Order of the competent authority in any part or parts of the hotel the management of which is being carried on by such person.

An offence
"Where maximum charges have been prescribed under regulation 4 for any service supplied by any hotel it shall be an offence against these Regulations for any person carrying on or connected with the management of any such hotel or acting as the agent or servant of such management to refuse to supply such service to any person demanding the same; Provided always that any such refusal shall not constitute an offence against this regulation if it is proved to the satisfaction of the court that no evasion of this regulation was intended and that such refusal was justified by the circumstances of the case."

"It shall be an offence against these Regulations

(a) to charge for any service a price in excess of the maximum price prescribed for such service under regulation 4;

(b) to obstruct the competent authority or a Hotel Inspector in the exercise of the powers conferred by regulation 5."

PERMITS FOR PETS
The attention of the public is drawn to the fact that entry permits are required for all animals landed in Hong Kong and that these permits may be obtained from the Colonial Veterinary Surgeon, Post Office Building.

Animals and birds brought in the Colony may also be required to undergo quarantine according to the Public Health (Animals and Birds) Ordinance.

The Ordinance is designed to prevent the introduction of infectious diseases.

Owners of animals and birds are also reminded that failure to report cases of disease may lead to serious epidemics.

Over-Eager Hon. Treas.

A Chinese unemployed, Wong Hing, was charged before Mr. H. G. Sheldon K.C. at the Central Magistracy yesterday with demanding $50 from Chan Chung-wing with menaces.

Sub-Inspector Mischenko said that 'accused together with two others asked the complainant to join a certain society, the entrance fee to be $50. As complainant had no money, accused took away three dollars and demanded the remainder be given at a certain time. He threatened Chan with trouble if he failed to pay.

Chan Chung-wing told the Court he was assaulted when he failed to give them the money. Accused made an appointment to pay the rest at the Peak Tram Station. He kept the appointment, and accused said the money he demanded was the proceeds from empty tins and bottles they had sold. The amount was $8.50, and would be divided among other workers.

The case was adjourned 48 hours, to enable accused to call his witnesses.

An order for confiscation of 80 pounds of flour and 30 pounds of sugar was granted by Mr. George She at the Central Magistracy yesterday when Wong Ham-ngek was charged with attempting to export the commodities to the s.s. Fat Shan.

MONEY MARKET

Chinese National Currency again weakened yesterday and fell to $1.14 for futures and $1.30 for spot (for C.N.S.1,000).

Gold was uncertain but managed to keep its level at $343 a tael.

U.S. dollars were steady with buyers at $1.86/$1.92. Sterling had buyers at $16.10, and Australian pound slightly weakened to $12.90.

ORDINANCE NO. 16 of 1935, PUBLIC HEALTH (ANIMALS & BIRDS)

The public is reminded of its obligations under the above Ordinance. For the benefit of the general public, shipping companies, air lines, travel agencies, etc., special attention is drawn to the following points.

The Prevention of the Introduction of Infectious Diseases.

(1) Entry permits are required for all animals landed in the Colony. Such permits may be issued by the Colonial Veterinary Surgeon to whom applications should be made at Post Office Building, Top Floor, before noon. At the time of application particulars of the number, breed and description of the animals to be imported, must be furnished.

(2) Animals and birds entering the Colony may be required to undergo quarantine and by-laws 12 and 14 are quoted for special attention:—

By-law No. 12. Any animal or bird which has been conveyed in the same vessel or train, or has otherwise been in contact with any diseased animal or bird, or which, in the opinion of the Colonial Veterinary Surgeon, may be likely to spread infection, may be detained by the Colonial Veterinary Surgeon in quarantine for such period as he may, in the circumstances of the case, think proper.

By-law No. 14. The following may be required before the Colonial Veterinary Surgeon shall release animals from segregation:—

a. A certificate to the satisfaction of the Colonial Veterinary Surgeon, signed by a duly qualified veterinary surgeon recognised by the local authority of the country of origin of the animals.

b. A certificate to the satisfaction of the Colonial Veterinary Surgeon, signed by the master of the vessel or person in charge of the animals, stating that no case of disease has occurred during the voyage, and giving the following information:—

1. Nature of the animals embarked.
2. Port of embarkation.
3. Number and causes of deaths.
4. Nature and number of the animals to be landed.

Disease among Animals and Birds in the Colony.

Failure to report cases of disease amongst animals and birds in the Colony may lead to serious epidemics.

There have been recent instances of failure to report obvious cases of diseases and the public is warned that any animal or bird dealt with in contravention of this Ordinance may be seized and destroyed, sold or otherwise disposed of.

Special attention is drawn to by-laws 22, 31, 32 and 36 which are quoted below.

By-law No. 22. Every person having any animal or bird in his possession or under his charge shall observe and make himself acquainted with the state of health of such animal or bird.

By-law No. 23. Every person having in his possession or under his charge any animal or bird affected with or suspected of being affected with disease shall:—

- a. as far as practicable keep that animal or bird separate from animals or birds not so affected, and
- b. with all practicable speed notify the fact of the animal or bird being so affected or suspected to a European Police Officer of the Police area wherein such animal or bird is, or to a Sanitary Inspector.

By-law No. 31. No animal or bird, and no carcass, fodder, litter, dung, uterine milk or other thing, shall be moved out of an infected place without a special permit.

By-law No. 32. No person, except the Colonial Veterinary Surgeon and persons acting under his direction, Police Officers and Sanitary Inspectors on duty and the attendants of the animals or birds shall enter an infected place without a special permit. No attendant shall leave an infected place without a special permit.

By-law No. 36. No carcass of an animal or bird shall be buried, or after burial, be dug up, except under the supervision of the Colonial Veterinary Surgeon or of a Sanitary Inspector acting under his instructions.

WAR ON GRAFT

If generalisation is permissible, Hong Kong's public servants have never had a particularly good name for incorruptibility. Scandals from time to time have exposed both individuals and departments. Enough has been going on, within "common knowledge," to create an atmosphere in which the majority of citizens have been inclined to shrug their shoulders, resigned to what they have come to regard as an inevitable feature of the administrative system. This was the situation in 1941 and before. Since the liberation, even the most hard bitten, returning to the Colony, have been appalled by graft and corruption on a scale so wide, bold and open as to have been inconceivable in pre-war days. How much the struggle for existence has contributed to this deplorable state of affairs is of no vital consequence. Realisation of the difficulties of making both ends meet when the difference between salary increases and food costs officially admitted to be 700 per cent, higher than in 1938 is so grimly effective in the undermining of morale, offers no real excuse and provides no reason for tolerating widespread corruption. Nothing, therefore, is likely to en- thusiase the thinking public more than the news that Government is at last embarked upon a serious effort to clean up the numerous rackets that have developed. Pre- mature publicity in the Chinese Press regarding the activities, in- cluding raids, of the specially selected unit engaged in the cam- paign, may well have injured the prospects of 100 per cent. success. What damage could have been done has, however, been done; and no harm can now come of re- ferring to the impounding of books and documents of the Im- port and Export Department, or of indicating that the investiga- tion will not necessarily stop with this particular department. The scope for further lines of enquiry is so apparent that there can be no point in insisting upon refer- ences more specific. Complaints appearing in the correspondence columns of the newspapers have been sufficient to indicate the lines of attack that lie open. To the campaign, however, public co- operation can contribute valuably. Government servants are public servants, no matter in what de- partment they may be employed, and while civic spirit can hardly be expected from those who are all too ready to place temptation in their way in return for such special favours as they can confer, against the requirements of in- tegrity and fair dealing, it should be possible to secure information from those who pay largesse un- willingly, on demand, in order to avoid obstacles and unpleasant- ties. Anyone who is able to pro- vide such evidence of graft to the authorities can do so, we are in- formed, by letter addressed to Post Office Box No. 247, with the assurance that the informa- tion will be treated as confidential. Doubtless, there is much that the authorities can discover by direct investigation. Their task will, nevertheless, be simpli- fied, particularly in the direction of pinning down individuals, with public assistance, more especially that of the Chinese community. The new campaign appears to have been promoted on direct in- structions from the Colonial Of- ficer, which did not come before their time. Now that it has been launched it is partly the respon- sibility of the principal sufferers to ensure that its purpose is achieved.

EGYPT'S FIRM
STANDAlexandria, Sept. 27.
A resolution declaring that Egypt regards her latest demands as the absolute minimum and cannot consent to further delay in the negotiations of the Anglo-Egyptian treaty revision, will be communicated by Ismail Sidki Pasha, the Egyptian Prime Minister, to next week's plenary session of the British and Egyptian dele- gations.

The resolution, sponsored by Ali Pasha el Sharni, the former Minister of Education and Pre- sident of the National Bank of Egypt, was carried unanimously.

Telecommunications
Of The Future

Engineering telecommunica- tion research in Britain is in full swing. Versatility and resource have been strength- ened by the clamant needs of the Fighting Services and Government Departments, and many experiments which were temporarily abandoned in 1939 have now been resumed. Mechanical tests with elec- trical parcel-sorting devices and equipment for stacking letters are being carried on side by side with the most advanced radio researches into the con- version of sound into electric waves and back again. Some of the latest experiments are concerned with the economical operation of the possible Trans- atlantic "phone cable."

By E. CHISHOLM
THOMSON

Post Office experiments are concentrated at the Research station at Dollis Hill, in the North-West suburbs of London, which was erected on a care- fully planned layout soon after the first World War to replace the very modest accommodation in the General Post Office building at St. Martin's-le-Grand, in the City. Dollis Hill is a self-contained establish- ment, with laboratories equip- ped for research and develop- ment on telecommunication prob- lems, as well as workshops for the construction of test appara- tus, models and prototypes of new equipment.

Machines For Sorting
Letters

On the severely mechanical side, the most interesting ex- hibits at the moment are the experimental machines, not yet in service, for coping with parcels and letters. Tests had begun just before the war and are now being resumed. One of the pieces of equipment un- der investigation, for separa- ting letters from parcels, is in the form of a large tilted bar- rel, more than six feet in diameter. As the barrel is re- volved by electric motor, the letters are seized by pairs of longitudinal rollers, rotating inwards, and deposited on con- veyer belts beneath. Parcels, being too large for the rollers, work their way to the lower end of the barrel and into a container.

More delicate in operation is the letter stacking device, made up of continuous slots through which 600 letters pass in a minute. On the journey they are turned so that the stamp on each is in the right position for franking. The final check is made by photo-electric cell.

This is the nearest the Post Office has got to mechanical letter-sorting, and the engineers themselves confess that no de- vice has yet been considered which would dispense with the human element in reading names and addresses.

The sorting and delivery of letters, with minor mechanical improvements, has changed little in a century; but in tele- phony—the great substitute for letter-writing—technical ad- vances are almost continuous, and the research benches at Dollis Hill are concerned at the moment with a number of striking improvements.

Not the least interesting is the two-way frequency system, already in use on some 2,000 trunk lines. The original test apparatus is still in situ. It is a time and trouble saver, where- by a subscriber on an automa- tic phone in a distant city can be dialled direct by one opera- tor. All the necessary signal- ling is conveyed by currents of two frequencies within the voice-frequency range; neutral- ising circuits prevent the mechanism from being set in motion by the speaking voice.

600 Conversations On One Cable

More money has probably been saved by "carrier work- ing" on the telephone lines than by any other single communi- cations invention. Originally known as "wired wireless," the system uses the telephone cur- rent in the same way as a radio carrier wave, and can thus ac- commodate a large number of separate and simultaneous con- versations on different wave- lengths. For this purpose British Post Office research has incorporated the coaxial or con- centric type of cable and re- peater system which can carry 600 conversations at once in the trunk network. The ter- minal equipments are virtually small radio telephone trans- mitters all working on different wavelengths but all connected to the same line and carrying the same message.

ordinary speech circuits to convey high quality music trans- missions for broadcasting. Whereas good speech quality can be obtained in a frequency band between 300 and 3,500 cycles, a musical transmission, to be satisfying to the critical ear, requires a width of be- tween 50 and 5,000 cycles. The latest device at Dollis Hill splits up the original music transmis- sion into three parts—low, medium and high frequency. The medium is sent over one line, and the other two are temporarily transposed to come within the 300 to 3,500 band and sent together over the second route. At the receiving end they are re-transposed and combined to reproduce the origi- nal music without any per- ceptible loss.

The possibility of a Trans- atlantic telephone cable has been brought nearer by several groups of experiments by the British Post Office. Stripped on one of the Dollis Hill benches is the world's first sub- marine cable repeater, which has just completed two years' successful tests on the sea bed between Holyhead and the Isle of Man. It enabled the num- ber of traffic circuits to be raised from 24 to 48. The whole amplifying apparatus, with valves in triplicate in case of breakdown, is contained in a cylindrical metal container about six feet long and one foot in diameter. Power to work the repeater is supplied on the same wire that carries the speech. Work is now in progress to de- sign repeaters capable of being worked in tandem and of operat- ing under greater hydraulic pressure. The difficulties are great and it may be a long time before a complete solution is found.

Another ingenious device is the Vocoder. This is an arrangement suggested by the Bell Telephone Company of America and is being developed on both sides of the Atlantic. Its aim is to accommodate half- dozen or more simultaneous conversations each way within the ordinary voice-frequency band. The voice is split up into ten narrow bands totalling only a few hundred cycles. At the transmission terminal the speech is analysed so that the magnitudes of the components within ten frequency bands are known. Synthesising equip- ment at the receiving end re- constructs the speech into a monotone or husky whisper, but an eleventh signal causes the re-constructed speech to be built up of harmonies of a fun- damental frequency varying with the speaker's larynx tone. The result is perfectly intelli- gible speech, though the voice is scarcely recognisable. Con- versations cannot be tapped ex- cept by a duplicate Vocoder equipment.

Sound-Proof Telephones
For Tanks

Sound-proof telephone ear- pieces were produced at Dollis Hill for use on tanks, and one of the exhibits in the acoustic laboratories is a plant for re- producing the noise of a Chur- chill tank at full speed. It was against such a noisy back- ground that the sound-proof phones were evolved.

One of the difficulties in speech and telephone tests is the measurement of sound pres- sures in confined spaces in such a way that the measuring in- strument does not itself intro- duce errors due to its mere presence. The solution has been found in a special microphone designed to operate at the end of a tube with a diameter of 1/32 of an inch. The working end of the tube can be placed in the mouth or ear to measure sound pressures accurately.

One of the finest pieces of mechanism produced at the Research Station is the prototype telegraph equipment developed for Cable and Wire- less Ltd. The gears had to be of the most delicate mesh, to prevent the slightest shake, and the machining needed accuracy of the order of 1/10,000 of an inch.

Some of the most important work at Dollis Hill during the war has been done by the Radio Group, especially in applying the piezo-electric properties of quartz to current problems. Research which began with the wavelength stabilisation of short-wave telephone transmitters has since been widely ap- plied—from enabling a blind, flying blind, to determine its exact position over the target to the development of a clock controlled by a quartz crystal which is probably one of the most accurate timepieces in the world, with an error of less than one second in a million years.

A Tour Of The
H.K. Border

British Commando troops policing the New Territories border are reporting that Chinese soldiers provide them with the biggest headache in their carrying out of anti-smuggling patrol work duties.

During a twenty-mile tour yesterday round six border posts where three hundred and seventy Commandos live in one-time civilian police billets, hut- ments and Nissen buildings, I was told that Chinese soldiers frequently make an effort to protect smugglers by levelling guns at the Commandos' faces from the opposite side of the frontier in an attempt to in- timidate them.

By MARGARET

A large quantity of food and clothing is confiscated every day by our troops who are pro- vided periodically with lists of goods which may not be taken across the border.

At one border post last week seven thousand catties of flour, five thousand catties of sugar, four thousand catties of salt and seven hundred tins of Nestlé's milk were seized by Commando forces from would-be Chinese smugglers.

Altogether the Commandos carry out police duties in seventy-two square miles of the New Territory area. Their job includes day and night warfare patrols round the villages and against work mainly concerned with smuggling.

The Commandos have been doing this job since June last and will continue until the Colony's civilian police force is able to take over. No date has yet been fixed for the change.

The 45 Commandos, which has headquarters in Fan Ling, police eighteen square miles of territory and has posts at Sha

Royal for installation at Green- wich Observatory.

The Dollis Hill station is well equipped for chemical, physical and metallurgical investigations. Spectrographic analysis enables minute particles of metal to be examined in the presence of large quantities of another metal. The proportions of the various constituents are deter- mined by observation of the spectrum of light emitted by the sample when excited by electric sparks. Some alloys required for automatic tele- phone switches must not con- tain impurities exceeding 0.002 per cent.

One of the many wartime successes of which the British Post Office is justly proud was the development of a lacquer for use on direct recording discs. Before the war many of the lacquer ingredients came from Germany, but when supplies were cut off, the Research Department was asked to help. As a result an excellent all-British lacquer was produced, and the B.B.C. and the Services are probably better than anything made before the war.

Dollis Hill also designed im- proved cutter heads and evol- ved complete recording and playback equipments which are now being used for broadcasting by the Government's de- partment.

Belgian
ChoiceBy RANDOLPH
CHURCHILL

The delay in coming to a decision about the future of the monarchy in Belgium is having a prejudicial effect upon the prospects of King Leopold's eldest son and heir, 16-year-old Prince Baudouin. Two years ago, when Leopold was forcibly deported from Belgium by the Germans, Prince Baudouin was made to go with him. Today he is still with his father in exile near Geneva. If he is ever to sit upon the throne of his ancestors, it is clearly im- portant that he should grow up in Belgium and receive his education there.

Leopold was the first Belgian king who was completely bilingual. He speaks Flemish as easily as French. Prince Baudouin has the same advantage. But few Bel- gians have seen him in the last two years. Those who have—and they include Socialist Prime Minister Achille Van Acker—report that he is a promising and intelligent young man.

Under Belgian law, Baudouin will reach his majority at the age of 18—that is, in two and a half years. It seems certain that, by then, a decision will have been reached about the monarchy. And all indications are that King Leopold will have realized that his own position is untenable and will have abdicated. If Prince Baudouin is to have a chance of making a success of the responsible role which will then devolve upon him, it is essential that he should return to Belgium as soon as possible.

So far, Cardinal van Roey of Malines and the Catholic sup- porters of Leopold have made no public pronouncement, but it is clear that, in private, they are preparing to accept the fact that King Leopold, even if he were to return to the throne temporarily, cannot hope to remain indefinitely as King of the Belgians. There- fore, their hopes are increasingly centred upon Prince Baudouin. It is likely they will soon advise King Leopold of the desirability of the young Prince's return to Belgium.

Meanwhile, the unity of Belgium and the cause of the Royal House are being well maintained by 22-year-old Regent Elisabeth, Charles, who is King Leopold's younger brother, in a position of extra- ordinary difficulty and delicacy, he has behaved with sagacity and discretion. During my recent visit to Belgium, I found no one who had anything but praise for the way in which he has handled a situation which has been not only politically difficult but personally disagreeable. I had the honour of "lunching" with him, and could not help being struck at once by the informality and modesty, as well as his political good sense and his application to the task which, through no wish of his, has fallen on his shoulders.

He regards himself as the trustee of the dynasty and has been at particular pains to avoid any suggestion that he himself is a candidate for the throne. When his brother Leopold was de- ported by the Germans, he went underground and, moving about incognito from place to place, took an active part in the Belgian re- sistance movement. Although he was not on particularly good terms with his brother, he has shown great loyalty to him and whatever may be his views upon what should be the outcome of the present dispute, he has been careful to keep them to himself.

The Catholic hierarchy and the Catholic Party, which, though in the opposition, is numerically the largest party in the Assembly, are increasingly realising the need for the withdrawal of Leopold in favour of his son. However, they are restrained in coming to a decision by the consideration that, if King Leopold can be so easily "buffed off the throne," the prospects for his son may not be much rosier. In particular, they fear the argument will be used that so young a boy is unfitted for the responsible tasks which the Bel- gian Constitution imposes upon the King.

That is why everything turns upon an early return of Prince Baudouin to Belgium. If, in addition to his youth, the enemies of the monarchy could also depict him as an emigre and exile, his chances would indeed be small. There is reason to suppose that these considerations are being brought before King Leopold. If he is wise, he will pay heed to them.

Festival In
EdinburghLondon, Sept. 27.
Edinburgh hopes to rival pre-war Salzburg with a three-week International Festival of Music and Drama, to be held in the city from August 1st to August 14th. Arrangements are being made for inclusive tours from Norway, Sweden, Denmark and other European countries, to be made through the main travel agencies for the festival, which will be held between August 1st and August 14th. The committee plans to have a large number of artists and musicians from all over the world, and to have a large number of plays and operas performed. The festival is expected to be a great success, and to bring a large amount of money into the city.PURE COGNAC BRANDY

Yugoslav Attempt To Coerce British News Agency

Major Principle Involved

London, Sept. 27. The Independent London weekly "Economist" wrote today that the dispute between Reuters and the Yugoslav Government over the arrest of the news agency's acting correspondent in Belgrade has raised the "question of a principle of the greatest importance for all who wish to preserve the independence of press reporting of foreign news."

While saying that "Ozna," the Yugoslav secret police, might have solid grounds for its action, the "Economist" added: "But the whole affair looks uncommonly like an attempt to coerce a great news agency into accepting an official nominee who will send out only news and comments desired by the Belgrade Government."

"A British correspondent would be immune from persecution by the Oznas unless well-substantiated charges could be brought against him because

Ike Visit To King

Southampton, Sept. 27. General Dwight Eisenhower, U.S. Chief of Staff, who arrived in Britain today with Mrs. Eisenhower, suffered from a severe cold in the course of the Queen Mary's exceptionally fast four-day trip from Halifax.

General Eisenhower has decided to spend tonight on board and leave by plane tomorrow for Frankfurt, Germany, where he will inspect the United States Occupation installations.

During the trip General Eisenhower said he was going to inspect American troops and see what progress was being made in Germany in housing the troops and bringing American families to join their menfolk in the Occupied Zone.

After General Eisenhower's stay in Scotland, when he will visit King George and Queen Elizabeth at Balmoral Castle, he means to visit Italy and Austria and then fly back to the United States.

During the trip the general and his wife kept to their quarters in the "Winston Churchill" suite. General Eisenhower himself described his time aboard as "resting, living around and doing nothing."

BRITISH COMMUNIST MANIFESTO

London, Sept. 27. The British Communist Party, in a message on the fifth anniversary of the creation of the Greek Left Wing coalition EAM, today said: "We warn the peoples of the world that under the present regime Greece has become a centre of intrigue and criminal adventures, which threaten the peace of the Balkans and the world."

"Labour and democratic movements must call an immediate halt to the situation of terror and reaction rapidly precipitating civil war."

The message condemned the "disgraceful events" which, it stated, had only been possible "as the result of British military intervention and violence and the backing of reaction by the Labour Government."—Reuter.

Paratroop Trial In Malaya

London, Sept. 27. The War Office announced tonight that in accordance with normal procedure all sentences in the Kuala Lumpur trial are subject to review after the first six weeks of sentences have been served and also at intervals of six months thereafter.

An officer is on his way home from Malaya by air with all relevant documents and each case will be carefully considered.

A Singapore message tonight said that eight British paratroopers tried on charges of mutiny at the Muar camp in Kuala Lumpur were sentenced to five years, while the remaining 247 paratroopers were sentenced to three years.—Reuter.

McNAUGHTON APPOINTED

Ottawa, Sept. 28. Mr. Mackenzie King, Canadian Prime Minister, announced last night the appointment of General Andrew George McNaughton as president of the Canadian Atomic Energy Control Board, established under the Atomic Energy Control Act passed by decision of the Canadian Parliament.

The wartime commander of the First Canadian Army, in Britain and a former Canadian Minister of Defence, General McNaughton is also appointed Canada's representative on the permanent Canada-United States Joint Defence Board for a term of three years.—Reuter.

American Hypocrisy, By Moscow

Moscow, Sept. 27. Accusing the United States of active interference in China, an article in today's official Soviet newspaper, "Izvestia," says: "Freighters lying the American flag bring thousands of tons of war supplies to China. B-29s in great numbers are being sold to China as scrap. American war materials on Pacific islands have been handed over to China for one-third of their price as 'non-military' property."

"Permanent barracks are being built for American Marines on Chinese soil. Kuomintang air-planes bomb Chinese villages with American bombs from American Flying Fortresses."

"On the hypocritical pretext of 'mediation' the United States actively interferes in China's internal affairs, pouring oil on the flames of civil war."

Denouncing the "false and provocative reports" published in Chinese "reactionary" newspapers, all-Union Soviet aid to the Chinese Communists, the writer declares: "Slandering outstout one another in trying to prove what cannot be proved, namely that it is not the United States which is interfering in Chinese affairs, but the Soviet Union."—Reuter.

Soviet Won't Pay

Lake Success, Sept. 27. The Soviet Union today declared that she was not prepared to pay anything at all for the maintenance or resettlement of 1,000,000 refugees and displaced persons in Europe.

"No anticipation in expenditure for the International Refugee organisation operational budget can be expected on our part," M. Valentin Teplov, the Soviet delegate told the IRO Finance committee of the United Nations Economic and Social Council. Despite opposition from Soviet and Yugoslav delegates, the committee passed a section of the IRO draft constitution making it obligatory on members to contribute to the operational budget.—Reuter.

London, Sept. 27. The King has approved the appointment of Field Marshal Viscount Alexander of Tunis (Governor-General of Canada) Colonel of the Irish Guards, with effect from Aug. 28 last, in succession to the late Field Marshal the Earl of Cavan.—Reuter.

Mr. Bevin Approves Stalin Speech

London, Sept. 27. Mr. Ernest Bevin, the Foreign Secretary, referring in a speech here tonight to the recent statement by Marshal Stalin, said: "We have recently had statements from Russia that they do not anticipate a further war at present. I do not think so either and I do not know anybody who is asking for war."

"There is one kind of war that must stop if we are to get peace—that is the war of nerves that has left some unfortunate countries in a state of disturbance."

Mr. Bevin, who was addressing a gathering in his constituency at Wandsworth Town Hall, said that in the next week or two it was hoped to bring the Paris conference to a conclusion. He hoped it would be a successful conclusion including settlements with Germany and Austria.

There were, in addition, problems of the Middle East, Egypt, Palestine, and many others of world importance in different parts of the globe.

"I think there has been a little lifting of the clouds," he said. "Passions and prejudices have to be overcome if we are to make the peace and that has been my great objective."

"We have recently had strong indications that I shall have to exercise great care because if I make a mistake or come to a wrong judgment and if the government of which I am a part makes a wrong decision in foreign affairs, it will not be the present generation that will suffer in the long run, but the generations yet unborn. I will do my best and when I pass off the stage I hope I shall have left nothing behind that will create further desires for war."—Reuter.

Pledge By Tito To Poland

London, Sept. 27. Marshal Tito has pledged Yugoslavia to "help Poland by all means if asked to" to preserve her western frontiers, the Belgrade radio said this afternoon, quoting an interview given to the Polish press.

Marshal Tito told the press that Yugoslavia approved of the western frontier of Poland, the radio added.

In his Stuttgart speech this month, the Secretary of State, Mr. James Byrnes, said: "Poland has asked for a revision of her northern and western frontiers. The United States will support a revision of these frontiers in Poland's favour."

"However, the extent of the area to be ceded to Poland must be determined when the final settlement is agreed upon."—Reuter.

Air Mail Rates To Be Lowered

Washington, Sept. 28. The Post Office Department announced today that air-mail rates from the United States to all foreign countries will be slashed about Nov. 1, and a uniform rate will be established for each of the five continents.

The new rates will be officially announced during the air-mail week beginning Nov. 1.

The second assistant Postmaster General said the new rates will be 25 cents per half ounce to Asia, Australia, and

Search In Lolo Country

Chengtu, Sept. 27. A United States search team is plunging deeper into China's wild and mountainous Far West, seeking long-lost American airmen who are feared to be captives of the fierce, slave-holding Lolo.

On the second day of their mission into the land of cloud-capped mountains, half-savage Mongolian-featured warriors and Pandas, the American soldier searchers are believed to be five to 11 days march from their goal.

Their goal is a valley of the "Shinglung," which curves its course from headwaters in the world's highest mountains. Missionaries have reported at least eight enslaved whites who were seen grinding corn or tending flocks in that region where few white men, save missionaries, have ever ventured.

The search party flew down to Sichuan, 300 miles southwest of Chengtu, and plan to go to the mission there to talk with the missionaries who saw the white men. Then they will try to locate the captives through friendly Lolo chieftains.—Associated Press.

"Queen Mary's" Fastest Ever

Southampton, Sept. 27. Britain's crack liner Queen Mary, the holder of the blue ribbon of the Atlantic, today reached Southampton after crossing the Atlantic from Halifax in the shortest time ever recorded.

But her average speed was not as high as when she won the blue ribbon from the French Normandie in 1938 as the journey which ended today was about 300 miles shorter than the recognised blue ribbon course.

For this crossing the time was three days 15 hours 48 minutes, compared with the former three days 20 hours 42 minutes.—Reuter.

Vyshinsky Sarcasm On Human Rights

Paris, Sept. 27.
M. Andrei Vyshinsky, the deputy Soviet Foreign Minister, arguing against the Australian proposal of a European court of human rights, asked today: "What about the Indians living in Asia, the black peoples of the United States and those of Indonesia?" He added: "Why are the rights of those who perhaps are in the greatest need not protected?"

Financial Chaos At Nuernberg

Nuernberg, Sept. 27.
A state of financial chaos has arisen in Nuernberg because the American authorities have refused to give dollar currency to the international delegations attending the final sessions of the Nuernberg war crimes trial.
Nuernberg is in the United States zone of Germany.
Trial officials and correspondents are now forced to run up accounts in their messes and buy drinks on credit.
The British Army Field Cashier, one of the most harassed men in Nuernberg, said today: "The situation is untenable. A high British Army finance official has flown to London to discuss the problem at the highest level. We hope by Monday to have made arrangements so that British correspondents who have to fly home and pay their passage in American dollars will be able to do so."—Reuter.

U.S. To Try Once More

Washington, Sept. 28.
Under-Secretary of State Clayton said today the United States will attempt to restore its information service in Belgrade which Yugoslavia ordered closed on Wednesday.
Clayton told a news conference that the free flow of information is a basic and fundamental principle of freedom for which America fought the war. He continued that, without understanding between peoples of the world, there is little hope of maintaining peace. He said that Yugoslavia's action would greatly hamper that objective.
He, however, acknowledged Yugoslavia's right to take this action but made it clear that the United States does not consider the summary order as final. His statement came as the State Department drafted a new note to Yugoslavia on the subject.
Clayton said the United States welcomes the maintenance here of similar information services by foreign governments.—Associated Press.

RECORDED MUSIC

"This evening at eight o'clock a concert of recorded music will be presented at the T. H. Services Club, St. Andrews, Nathan Road, Kowloon. The programme will be as follows:—Overture 'Orpheus in the Underworld' by Offenbach and played by the London Philharmonic Orchestra; Enrico Caruso singing 'L'Alceste'; Concerto in B minor for violin by Elgar with Yehudi Menuhin and the London Symphony Orchestra conducted by Sir Edward Elgar; Etude in E Major and Waltz No. 7 in C Sharp Minor by Chopin; Enrico Caruso singing 'Largo' by Handel, Symphony No. 101 in D minor 'The Clock' by Haydn and played by the Philharmonic Orchestra of New York.
A Forces Service will be held at the Club this evening at 8.

Batavia, Sept. 27.
The advance party of Service troops arrived from Holland today at Tanjung Priok, the port of Batavia in the 10,500-ton liner Kliffonten. They are to prepare for the arrival here of the main body of the "December 7 Division" which is expected later in the year.—Reuter.

SPORTS SECTION CASC Share Points With 15 Cmdo

The new football season opened in drizzling weather with the result that the attendance was not great, but the two senior games provided some interesting football, the best game of the afternoon being that at the Valley between Sing Tao and Hong Kong Club, which resulted in a win for the Chinese.
At Causeway Bay, 1/5 Commando had a hard tussle with the Chinese Amateurs and were forced to share the points; the other senior game between 44 Commando and Navy was not played as the ground had not been properly lined. In the Junior Division, Sing Tao easily beat Club and 42 Commando accounted for C.A.S.C. by two clear goals.

SING TAO v. H.K. CLUB

In spite of a continual drizzle, the senior soccer match between Sing Tao and Hong Kong Club at Happy Valley yesterday afternoon proved to be a first-class tussle. The game was played in a true sporting spirit and was entirely free from the usual ill-feeling and barracking which is so much a feature of local competitive games.

Football fans who attended the match in expectation of a one-sided affair were most pleasantly surprised by the spirited game put up by the Club. It was the consensus of the large number of Chinese spectators present that although the Club was defeated it was by no means disgraced.

The highlight of the game was the brilliant exhibition of goal-keeping by the Club goalie, Leek, who earned the plaudits of all spectators for his masterly saves. His anticipation was uncanny and were it not for his fine display the score against the Club might well have run into double figures. Leek was always in the right place at the right time and had his body behind the ball at the crucial moment. He could not be blamed for the shot that managed to get past him and his performance in view of the fact that he had to handle a wet and heavy ball which came at him from all angles with such force and swiftness which Chinese players are known to pack behind their kicks.

The Club defence also played a sterling game and it is much to their credit that they were able to keep a very tight grip on the nippy Sing Tao forwards—one of the most formidable forward lines in the Colony.
The Club forwards lacked cohesion at the start, but as the game progressed, their combination showed a distinct improvement. With a little more practice, they should prove to be a force to be reckoned with.

The Chinese team all played well, the only weak link yesterday being Chu Siu-hang in goal. On the only two occasions he was really tested, he conceded goals.

Positional Play
The positional play of the Chinese was a delight to watch. The forwards moved with clock-work precision and the defence covered each other so well that it was no easy matter to get past them.

Although the score was at one period 5-0 in favour of the Chinese, interest in the game never lagged, as the Club kept pegging away and never allowed themselves to be dismayed by the score against them.

Lee Tak-kee opened the scoring after play had been in progress for about 15 minutes. The shot, a fast rising one into the corners of the net from about six yards range, gave Leek no chance. Before half time, Lee added another goal. Lal Shiu-wing scored two perfect goals, one of which was from about 25 yards away.

Shortly after the resumption, Lee Tak-kee netted again to complete his 'hat-trick'. The Club then settled down in earnest and from then onwards continually had the Chinese on the run. Their efforts were rewarded when, following a neat movement, R. Segalen scored. Within a matter of a few minutes, a clever bout of passing by the Club forwards resulted in Jelstad netting after the Chinese goalie had failed to hold his first shot.

The final whistle sounded with the Club pressing.

The game was very ably handled by Captain J. P. England.

C.A.S.C. v. 1-5 COMMANDO

At Causeway Bay yesterday, 1/5 Commando and Chinese Amateur Sports Club, both newcomers to the First Division, shared four goals in a keenly contested game.

The slippery state of the ground made ball control difficult and both sides missed easy chances in front of goal. The game was well controlled by Lieut. Young and though he had occasion to caution some players, he always had the game well in hand.

Several good players of 1/5 Commando were on view and should receive recognition in the first representative game which will be played on Oct. 10. Redman played a good game at back, while Livesey in the centre-half berth was also prominent. His wing-half, Tonner, played very well in the first half and had the sneaky Chin Chik-fai well in check.

The Chinese were best served by their goalkeeper, Yee Kai-yan, whose splendid handling saved the Chinese from defeat, especially in the first half. In the attack, Ip Yan-bor and Lo Wah-shing were the most prominent. The Chinese opened the scoring through Chin Chik-fai, but before the interval, Beadle equalised following a free kick. Hill placed his side in the lead early in the second half and after a period of defensive play, the Chinese broke away for Lo Wah-shing to equalise. There was no further scoring.

1/5 Commando:—Powell, Timmis and Redman. Ingoal: Livesey and Tonner. Beadle, Banks, Bird, Hill and Ford.

C.A.S.C.—Yee Kai-yan, Ho Kar-tuen and Chan Yee-shing. Tam Wai, Kuig Hing-yuk and Chan Lam. Chin Chik-fai, Ip Yan-bor, Lo Wah-shing, Ho Yau-kee and Lee Tsun-fat.

NAVY v. 44 RM COMMANDO

The league fixture between Navy and 44 R.M. Commando, that was to have been played at Sookunpoo, devolved into a friendly after the referee, Mr. K.K. Ip, ruled against the game being a league fixture as the ground had not been properly marked out.

Navy won surprisingly easily by four goals to two after a gruelling one-all first half. Both teams were not the same that won the Shield Competition and runner-up berth in the League respectively last year.

As a team, Navy was better and are strong contenders on yesterday's form. A balanced forward line will, however, have to have a solid defence behind it. There is enough talent available but it may take time before the team will play together well.

44 R.M. Commando will have a suffer time of it in the first month of the League but have the advantage of weight and a long-standing defence. The game was over in the first half but Navy had the

42 COMMANDO v. CASC

In a fairly evenly contested game 42 Commando beat Chinese Amateur Sports Club by two clear goals in the Second Division at Causeway Bay yesterday after a goalless first half.

Had the service men taken advantage of the many opportunities offered them they would have won comfortably as they were the better team throughout.

Play in the first half was even though Commandos had two good scoring chances.

Fowkes opened the scoring in the second half from a penalty and shortly after increased the lead with a shot that should have been cleared by Ho Po-pui.

42 Commando:—Taylor, McLennan, Heche, Fowkes, Pitman, Gossall, Murray, Meach, Gannon, Whitten and Partington. C.A.S.C.:—Ho Po-pui, Ho Lok-ming, Chan Hui-chuen, To Hui-hat, Toi Po-mun, Leung Ping-sing, Tsui Yui-tung, Wan Cheuk-kun, Lo Ching-yang and Chan Hing-chuen.

Club Beaten

Strengthened by the inclusion of Ho Ying-fun, who played for Kwong Wah last year, Sing Tao had an easy afternoon against Club in the Second Division won by five clear goals after leading at the interval by four goals.

Ho Ying-fun scored all four goals in the first half and after the interval Lee Ling-kee added the last goal.

Today's Gamse

The best game in this afternoon soccer programme should be seen on the Club ground when Kwong Wah meet St. Joseph's in the First Division.

A good game is expected as both teams appear to be evenly matched. Kwong Wah have lost several of last year's players but they still have a strong forward line which includes Cheuk Shok-kam, Wong King-cheung and Ip Po-oi.

St. Joseph's will be fielding a fairly useful side and, if the players can stand the pace, should do well.

Carvalho will lead the attack and he will be assisted by B. Gosano and R. Rocha. The defence is fairly sound with Alex. Aires in the pivotal position and D. Leonard at full back.

Eastern are anticipating a lean year this season. Kong Sing-king will be assisting them in the defence but they will be without the services of Hau King-seng who will throw their lot this season.

Royal Air Force, last year's champions meet 45 Commando at Sookunpoo and it is hoped that the ground will be ready for play. 45 Commando are newcomers to the First Division and have to do well.

The following is today's programme:

American Football

New York, Sept. 28.
The standout attractions, like the Notre Dame-Illinois, Army-Oklahoma, Indiana-Michigan and California-Wisconsin football games, spiced today's college football menu.

President Truman will head an expected 25,000 persons who hope to see the Army dig in against a West Point invasion by the Oklahoma Sooners in perhaps the first test since the Cadets were beaten by the Navy in 1913.

But easily Number One game in the nation is the Illinois-Notre Dame clash at Champaign, where a capacity crowd of 70,000 is expected for the meeting of the two potential national champions.

Wisconsin, which shellacked Marquette last week, tests Frank Wickhorst's first California product at Berkeley.

Villanova, 35-0 victim of Army last week, is in the Navy schedule in a game which will provide comparison between the service teams strength.

Last night, Temple and Southern Methodist played a 7-7 tie before 30,000 people at Philadelphia, while Wake Forest routed Boston's return to bigtime football with a 12-6 victory before 30,000 spectators at Boston.

The University of Miami bested William and Mary by 13-3, while Georgia routed Clemson 35-12 and Southern California nipped Washington State by 13-7.—Associated Press.

Arsenal To Play Sparta

London, Sept. 28.
Arsenal are not taking next Wednesday's match against Sparta, champion club of Czechoslovakia, as an easy thing for them. The provisional team selected at Highbury Stadium, indicates the London club is well aware of the quality of the football they will face.

Seven peace or wartime internationals are expected to play for Arsenal. Scott is likely to partner Bernard Joy at fullback, Bastin and Leslie Compton will be in the half back line, and the forward line will almost certainly include Rayn Jones, Sloan and Dr. Kevin O'Flanagan, all of whom have played for their native countries.

Arsenal announced today that the gates will be opened two hours before the kick-off at 2.30 p.m.
The Sparta team is due to arrive at Croydon Airport early today.—Associated Press.

YACHT RACES

Yesterday's United Services (Hong Kong) Yacht Club race gave a taste of the hard winds to come in the next few months. "Blue" capsized on the second lap, but the others weathered the course well.

One cannot help thinking, however, that the open dinghies will sometimes be up against it in the next few months, when white horses are in evidence. It is hoped that the arrival of the decked-in Star class boats will improve the situation on hard weather days.

The results of yesterday's races were:

Place	Yacht	Time
1.	Cambridge II (Gardener, Brown & Mallet)	1.13.25
2.	Duke of York I (Hones & Mrs. Desouter)	1.13.30
3.	Stonecutters III (Swin-dells & Jacobs)	1.13.50
4.	Tyne (Andrews & Perry)	1.18.45
5.	Stonecutters IV (Robson & Trier)	1.28.45

"Green" and "Stonecutters II" failed to round one of the marks, and "Blue" capsized.

New York, Sept. 28.
St. Louis National League pennant hopes hit a new low as the Cardinals dropped into an exact first place tie with the idle Brooklyn Dodgers by bowing to the Chicago Cubs, 7 to 2. Each club has only two games to play.

In the only other National League game scheduled, Cincinnati shutout Pittsburgh 8 to 5 on the two hit pitching of Beggs.

In the American League Cleveland's Bob Feller equaled the modern major league strikeout record of 345 in a single season, by fanning six Detroiters as the Indians edged the Tigers 9 to 8. Feller turned the trick in five innings of roller pitching.

Chicago scored a double victory over St. Louis, winning the first game 7 to 3 and the second 8 to 3. Tex Hughson scored his 20th victory as the Boston Red Sox beat Washington 5 to 4. There were no other American games scheduled.

Adam; Cotton Survive For The Final

Hoyle, Sept. 27.
After a thrilling day's golf on the Royal Liverpool championship links here today, James Adams, Scottish international, and Henry Cotton survived for the 36 holes final of the British professional golfers match play championship, which will be played tomorrow.

Late in the day it looked as though Bobbie Locke, South African champion, would after all appear in the final. He had lost one first two holes to Cotton, turned three down and was still three down with five to play, but then staged a grand rally and took the famous exemption to the last green.

Meanwhile, Adams built up a commanding four-hole lead over Richard Burton, another Open champion, at the halfway stage, but Burton fought back and was beaten only by two and one. Burton had put out another Overseas challenger, Norman von Nida, of Australia, by four and three in the morning, when Burton's brilliant putting was too good for Nida.

All the fourth round games of the morning had been won easily, Adams beating the Irish Open champion, Fred Daly, four and three, Locke beating Percy Alliss five and four, while Cotton won his match by five and four.

Henry Cotton won the championship in 1932 and 1939, while Adams was runner-up in 1937. Both have a big reputation in the game, though Adams, several times runner-up in previous events, has yet to win a major championship, but he is a fighting type and will not be overawed by Cotton's status.
